"BAT" SAYS KETCHEL TO WIN.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Bat Nelson is in Chicago today arranging with news dealers for a new book he has written telling of his life and exploits, but will return to Los Angeles tomorrow. Bat offered to bet $5,000 to $2,500 on the result with the winner taking all if Packey Mc-Farland would enter the ring with him at the lightweight limit.
Nelson said that in his opinion there will be only one man in the ring if Ketchel and Packey meet in San Francisco. Ketchel will win easily, he said.

All the world's a stage, and most of us want to be critics.

WINONA, Minn., June 28.—(Special.)—The Outcasts lost the game here yesterday by the score of 2 to 1, before a multitude of fans many of whom were from La Crosse.

Corbett and Watson were the opposing slab men and both pitched fine ball allowing but four hits apiece.

The two errors by La Crosse came at the moment when they meant runs for the Clippers.

The two teams will play at La Crosse today in a doubleheader. The score:

R. H. E.	Score
Winona	2 4 1
La Crosse	1 4 2

Batteries—Corbett and Moore; Watson and Iain.

Eau Claire Wins

EAU CLAIRE, June 28.—Eau Claire won from Duluth yesterday by bunching hits on Knudson in the sixth and seventh. The victory puts the Boosters at the top of the column.
The score:

Wausau Wins Two

SUPERIOR, June 28.—The Lumberjacks won a doubleheader here yesterday taking both games by the scores of 3 to 2 and 6 to 1. The Superior batting of Wausau was largely responsible for the victories, the visitors getting a total of 22 hits. The score:

Saturday's Game

The Outcasts won the first game of the series played on the home ground by the score of 10 to 1. Although the score is one sided it does not indicate the state of ball that was played.
The Scrappers were right there with the kicking and the crabbing every time there was a ghost of a chance for it. All in all the Clippers played a regular school boy exhibition of the National game, several of the players talking back to the fans in the grand stand, and "Red" Moore refusing to run out infield hits, one of which he could have beat to the bag.

Big Schardt was there all the time in Saturday's game, his spit ball working nicely. The Scrappers were able to get but four widely scattered hits off his delivery. He would have won out in a no run game but for Klein dropping the ball at the plate in his attempt to tag Curtis out in the eighth inning.

Baillies and Killian were benched in the second inning for continual kicking and several of the other members of the up rise aggregation would have been served in the same manner, only it would have crippled the team.

Crangle went on the rubber with "Red" Moore as the receiving end of the battery while Corbett took Cran-gle's place in the garden. The score:

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND

Matt, the new short stop, looks like the real goods. In Saturday's game he handled himself like a real ball player, proving himself an exceptionally fast man, fielding well and participating in a fast double play with one out and the bases full. He got but one hit although he slammed the ball every time he had a chance with the willow.

Kraher's stop of a grounder in the eighth inning in the neighborhood of the initial sack was of the sensational order and robbed Graves of a hit.

"Red" Moore received the applause of the stands in the third inning when he caught Barlow's high foul against the wire of the grand stand.
Although he was continually kicking the crowd showed that they appreciated a good play no matter who made it.

Barlow made a pretty bare handed throw in the fourth inning on the poor throw to the bag by Matt.

BUSSES FOR BALL GAMES

Bussees are being utilized today to convey crowds to and from the ball park where a double header was played. Following an unauthorized announcement telephoned to the ball grounds Saturday and announced by the umpire that the strike had been settled resulted in the cars in waiting being filled with fans to return to town. However, when this news was proved untrue there was considerable excitement, and the ball directors today to provide other means of conveyance for the fan.

NOXALLS DEFEAT OLD RIVALS

The Noxalls met their old rivals, the Diamonds, Sunday afternoon, at League park and trimmed them to a tune of 3 to 1. Nonstad was on the firing line for the Noxalls and had the Diamonds guessing all the time.
He was supported in brilliant fashion by his teammates, who played er-rorless ball. Star catches were made by Neshem and Lassig, fielders of the Noxalls.

Balduzzi occupied the box for the Diamonds and pitched winning ball except in the third. After two men were out, Swaty singled, Neshem got a life on an error and then Kolb landed on one of Balduzzi's twisters for two bases, scoring Swaty and Neshem, and then scoring himself on a wild throw to second. The Diamonds got their only score in the eighth, when Kabat got a walk and scored on Bart's scratch hit.

Batteries for Noxalls, Nonstad and Noffke; Diamonds, Balduzzi and Bauch.

FLANAGAN BREAKS THE HAMMER RECORD

NEW YORK, June 28.—John Flanagan played havoc with his world's record in the hammer throw at the New York Press club games Saturday. Flanagan threw the 16-pound missile 180 feet, over five feet better than his mark made at Travers Island two weeks ago. Matt McGrath took second with 164 feet 9 3/4 inches.

FORBES BACK IN RING.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Harry Forbes, at one time bantamweight champion of the world, today declared his intention to return to the ring. For several years he has spent most of his time teaching boxing at Bloomington, Ill. He says he is prepared to meet "big game" but would like to meet Monte Attell better than any of the others in that class. An effort to sign up Attell for a ten round fight at Hammond with Forbes will be made when At-tell comes east from the Pacific coast.

Why ELFENBRAU is good for you

THE delicious, refreshing qualities of Elfenbrau, that good Bottle Beer, are but a part of its merit. Its exceptional food and tonic properties are what make Elfenbrau the choice of the most fastidious beer drinkers.

Barley Malt makes a food—and Bohemian Hops produce one of the best tonics. Together with the choicest of the above ingredients we use pure, clear, sparkling water—proven by tests to be the best adapted to brewing of any in the country.

The percentage of alcohol in Elfenbrau Beer has been reduced to about 3.12 per cent, just enough to be a gentle aid to digestion, and much less than contained in most patent medicines.

GEORGE VAN HALTREN, RELEASED, BECOMES AN UMPIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The sensation in Pacific coast baseball circles is the recent release for no apparent reason, of George Van Haltren, from the Oakland team. Van Haltren is the dean of the game, starting to play in 1881. In 1886 he went to Chicago and played as pitcher with the White Sox. From 1886 until 1904 he played in various clubs of the big league, most of the time with the New York Nationals. He came back to the coast as manager of the Seattle team, staying in the northern city for one year, when he joined Oakland. A few days after Van Haltren's release, President Cal Ewing of the Pacific Coast League announced the appointment of the veteran player as umpire.

The average young fellow would be willing to die for some girl, provided she would allow him to fix the

CANTILLON MANAGER OF WHITE SOX?

CHICAGO, June 28.—That "Billy" Sullivan will be succeeded by Joe Cantillon, as manager of the Chicago White Sox next season, is the report current here today. President Comiskey of the Sox declined to discuss the report, but several of his friends believe it was true.
The failure of the Washington club to get a first division berth in spite of Cantillon's three years of effort there is said to have caused the determination of the owners of that club to depose him and put "Jiggs" Donohue in charge there next year. Comiskey is said to be in correspondence with Cantillon and to have nearly closed the deal for the latter's services in 1910.

STATUS OF MILLIONAIRES

G. K. Chesterton, the London journalist has been paying his respects to the American millionaire. Now when a professed wit sets himself to discuss a subject his ignorance of which may fairly be described as abysmal the public has a right to expect that what he has to say will be very entertaining reading indeed. It is sad, therefore, to record that, while Mr. Chesterton has used some quite jolly words, his essay on the whole is less jolly reading than we fancy he had meant it to be.

Mr. Chesterton has misconceived this whole matter; he has missed the mark by failing to seize the true economic and social status of the millionaire. Mr. Chesterton complains of his not on the score that he is a scientific money getter—that is admirable as well and squanders such vast sums on educational and philanthropic work instead of enjoying himself like an ordinary human being. He squeezes as dry like an orange, says Mr. Chesterton, and then invests our money for us in hospitals and universities and libraries which we deny ourselves the pleasure of using, instead of spending it on such a jolly lot of persons as cab drivers, flower girls and the stars of comic opera, as an English gentleman would very sensibly do.

What a shocking lack of knowledge he displays! It costs America many millions of dollars a year to support its millionaires in comfort and they must be worth the price, or the American people, who are pretty shrewd in money matters, wouldn't do it. Mr. Chesterton's error lies just in this: That he insists upon regarding our millionaires as free agents whereas they are nothing of the sort.
They are institutions, like the king and the members of the house of Lords. No man who had reached years of discretion would consent to become a millionaire; we have to catch them young and fit them for their institutional career. Society cannot exist without its hewers of wood and its fettlers of water. Well, we have arranged it so that all this burdensome work falls to the millionaire. When he is young and active he builds our railroads, digs our mines, burrows for oil and preforms labors which makes those of Hercules seem, by comparison, but a kind of nursery diversion. The rest of us are so busy enjoying life that we haven't time to vex our wits with all those necessary but uninspiring tasks; therefore we have invented the millionaire, who does it all for a little flattery and is so simple-minded that he never suspects he is being duped.

And when he has become too old to work we hand him over to the arsonists and the joke vendors and

Troubadours Make "Hit"

There has been no theatrical hit in New York or in fact, America since the first introduction of the now famous "Merry Widow" equal to that scored by the Dixie Trouba-dours. Their recent triumphs at theatres in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and New Orleans were in some respects unequalled and of the sensational kind. Some of the largest play houses in these various cities with seating capacities up to 3,500 were inadequate to the demands for seats, and this, by the way, during the panic we have just passed through.
Laymen, clergymen, jurists, statesmen, merchants, bankers, journalists, farmers, men of all profession and calling, and ladies of high degree, children, etc., from near and far from the seaside and from the mountain to witness this wonderful performance by the unparalleled band of darkey singers and dancers.
No less personage than Mr. Theodor Roosevelt, president of the United States, was sufficiently interested in these troubadours to acknowledge his interest through a courteous letter addressed to the management of the company, in reply to letters of invitation to the premier performance at New York.
The Troubadours will appear at the La Crosse theater Wednesday, June 30.

we behold him transformed into the

MATRIMONY VS. BUSINESS

A woman who conceals her identity has just published in a current magazine a torturing account of her unhappy married life. She insists that her experience is common, that the happiest women she knows are widows left in comfortable circumstances, that most women are afraid of their husbands, that many are compelled to lie, and that divorce may be a good thing. Her article has the ring of sincerity to it.

She writes blissfully of her engagement and honeymoon. During the first two years the couple lived economically; "Frank" was putting his money into his business. The only incidents to mar the couple's happiness were "sudden and inexplicable flare-ups. Occasionally, to our amazement, a trifle would make us glare at each other like animals and speak bitterly. Five minutes later we would express our regret and shame." The wife realized that, with her, these quarrels were due to nerves and trials of life adjustment.

She discovered something about her husband, however, after a particularly violent quarrel one night. He went to bed and she tried to read a book. Finally a tear dropped on her page and she thought: "How silly all this is! I am making myself suffer, and I am making Frank suffer, too." She stole to his bed to kiss away the storm and—he was sleeping peacefully.

The years dragged by. Frank prospered and took a fine home. He took his wife less into his confidence, whereas he used to tell her "everything." He put the home on a business basis. He expected everything to be right as a matter of course.
When things went wrong he was amazed and indignant. He used to praise her cooking; now he only criticized. The wife writes, "I used to go up to my room and have a nice little cry," sometimes hardly knowing the cause of grief.

In spite of prosperity the wife still had to economize, and, because of the husband's larger home plans, the monthly bills became larger and he would frown over them. The wife said: "Sometimes I told untruths to avoid resentment of criticism." She asked for an allowance, but her husband gave her a dark look.

A child came, a boy. The husband took a new attitude after this. She was the mother of "his" boy. His manner suggested greater authority, sure possession and right to make stern exactions.

Boyhood has passed and the boy is now in school. The husband still insists upon running his domestic establishment on a business basis, with sentiment left out, and he is planning to make his son like himself—"physically, mentally and morally tough." The wife says she will not have it. "It is going to lead to the struggle of our existence together, the only real struggle. I shall be ready!" Even now, she says, this boy has learned his father's trick of looking sternly at her.

In generalizing, the writer says her experience is like that of many women. She says divorce is no solution while men and conditions remain what they are. Divorce is not the evil—the evil lies back of divorce. She rejoices that there are increasing divorces, because they call attention to the defects of marriage.

What's the matter with this couple? Why, the husband has no sentiment, no fine feelings, and the woman is full of them. They are mismatched. He does not understand her. They talk different languages.
An amazing number of married couples are mismatched. An amazing number of people get married and only think they are in love. Some even get married knowing that they do not love. What then can be expected but sorrow and regret.

The point the wife, who thus exposes her soul, brings out about the boy is interesting. She is right, for the man she has a son to be will be a happier, better man than the man her husband loves for. But the husband will probably win, if the boy has already learned the trick of withering the mother with a scornful glance.—Milwaukee Journal.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITOL

(By John J. Hannan.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.— In the corridors of the capital there was found the copy of a catechism which while one may not agree with everything contained therein still it furnishes some food for talk and is quite a relief from the prosy debate upon tariff schedules and discussions by democrats upon the time warmed theme "Why I did it, or following in the footsteps of Jefferson" in answer to Bryan's criticism of their votes. Here is the catechism of at least a portion of it:

Q. Why does not President Taft desire an income tax?
A. Because he wants a corporation tax.

Q. Why does he want a corporation tax?
A. Because he doesn't want an income tax.

Q. Did he not say that he favored an income tax?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then why has he changed his mind?
A. He has not. It was changed for him.

Q. Who changed it?
A. Mr. Aldrich.

Q. How did he do it?
A. He told him it was impossible to pass an income tax.

Q. Why did he tell him that?
A. He thought it was the easiest way to win.

Q. Was he right?
A. He was.

Q. Was it necessary for Aldrich to win Taft?
A. It was to carry out Mr. Aldrich's scheme.

Q. What was the scheme?
A. To sidetrack the income tax.

Q. Why did he want to do that?
A. For family reasons.

Q. What were the family reasons?
A. His son-in-law is one and he has a large income of his own.

Q. Who is his son-in-law?
A. John D. Rockefeller's son.

Q. Were there any other reasons?
A. Oh, yes.

Q. How many?
A. Two.

Q. What are they?
A. John D. Rockefeller and J.
Pierpont Morgan.

Q. Why are these men reasons?
A. They are not of themselves—they are because of their fortunes.
An income tax would compel them to pay their share of the cost of government.

Q. Don't they do that now?
A. Not according to any records in the possession of the government.

Q. Do these men favor the corporation tax?
A. No; not a corporation tax for itself or for the government, but they favor the corporation tax proposed by Mr. Aldrich.

Q. Why?
A. Because they are in favor of the other fellow paying the taxes.

Q. Are not these men largely interested in corporations?
A. Yes.

Q. Would not that large interest compel them to pay some tax by way of decreased dividends?
A. No; the corporations will not pay the tax, consequently the stock holders will not pay the tax.

Q. If we are to have a corporation tax, why will not the corporations or the stock holders in corporations pay it.

A. Corporations sell what they have to the public. They will add a little to the price more than enough to pay the tax and the corporation tax will be made an excuse for still higher prices.

Q. Are there other reasons why these men do not favor such taxes.
A. Yes, they are large bond holders and they are to get their profits in interest which will not be taxable.
They are also heavily interested in individuals in properties which yield them large returns but which are not incorporated. They do not under a corporation tax have to pay anything

Sing a song of microbes, Lurking everywhere;
Swimming in the water,
Sailing through the air;
Buried in the cellar,
Clinging to your clothes,
Sticking to your fingers, Creeping through your nose;
Mixed in all the sauces, Stirred in every cake,
Swallowed with the pastry—Hence the stomachache;
Boiling in the soup pot,
Baking in the bread,
Prancing on a thread;
Billions on a banknote,
Trillions on the greenbacks Used to pay your rent;
Cancer on a sunbeam, Phthisis on a mote,
Forty thousand ailments Gallop down your throat.
Read the daily papers,
If you have a doubt,
Microbes as they caper
Spread the seeds of gout, Propagate the fever,
Make you have the hives,
Mark your face with freckles, Kill a cat's nine lives,
Give us ear and toothache,
Gives a horse the heaves, Roups and flip to chickens,
Gives a horse the heaves,
Microbes cause the earthquake, Raise the storm at sea,
Raise the dreadful cyclone, "Skooter" and the flea; Strike the Wall Street panic, Cause the summer frost,
Make the stylish bonnets,
Make the price they cost;
Cause the family quarrel, Cause the auto smell,
Give the chauffeur awful nerve,
Give the people—well

A Division of Labor
The following dialogue at the Bow county court today deserves to be recorded:
Witness—One day I had some shrimps to sell and I asked the plaintiff to help me. He said "I can't push the barrow because may arm is bad but if you like I'll come along with you and holler."

Within the Car
"Fare."
The passenger gave no heed.
"Fare, please."
Still was the passenger oblivious.
"By the conductor, 'I imply no reference to the state of the weather, the complexion of the admirable blonde you observe in the continuous seat, nor even to the quality of service vouchsafed by this philanthropic corporation. I merely allude, in a manner perhaps lacking in delicacy, but not in conciseness, to the monetary obligation set up by your presence in this car, and suggest that, without tempering your celerity with enunciation, you liquidate."

At this point the passenger emerged from his trance.—Tit-Bits.

was made to the increased cost of NATURE'S PURITY

UNBLEACHED
MARVEL
FLOUR

Always the best. Nature in its infinite kindness to mankind, gives us wheat, with all its purity, nourishing and health-giving strength. Flour made in the good old-fashioned, natural way, unbleached, retains all the nourishing and health-giving qualities of wheat.
Bleached Flour, the kind now practically in universal use, is not a natural product; it is artificially whitened and contains peroxide of nitrogen, and the U. S. Pure Food Commission has ruled:
"The bleaching of flour is a violation of the Pure Food Law of 1906," and instructed the flour mills they will have to discontinue its manufacture and sale.

MARVEL Flour is unbleached. It is pure, wholesome and economical. It has been on the market for years and thousands of Doctors and Pure Food Experts recommend its use. It makes more and better bread, cake and pastry at less cost than bleached flour, and is the only flour for your daily use. For sale by all grocers. If you buy your bread, insist on its being made of MARVEL Unbleached Flour.

Criminal
By
J. B. Harris-Burand
COPYRIGHTED 1908

Yet he knew that there was a woman who loved him, and who would lead him tenderly through life. But his heart revolted from her; the interview that lay before him had only been arranged with one object.
He must know the truth. He must find out what part Leonore had played in the tragedy of Laura's marriage.
He must hear the truth from Leonore's own lips. Perhaps she would lie to him. But though he could not see her face, he would judge her from her voice, from the words which she used to conceal her thoughts. He would find out, and if she were unworthy, he would never marry her. He would rather live out his life of darkness alone.

Of Laura he knew nothing save that which he had gathered from local gossip. She had been taken to the William and Sarah to Gorehaven, and had been placed in the small hospital in that town. Within the last few days she had been moved to Tan-kerlane Court, and Sir William Tan-kerlane had accompanied her. He had received no message from either of them. It was possible that he would never come into touch with either of them again. Sir William would keep a tight hold on his wife for the future, and it was possible that Laura's spirit had been entirely broken by her illness.

Yet he thought much of her in those first days of the darkness, and the flame of his love burnt more fiercely than ever in the gloom. But he knew that he would never take her from her husband, and that only the death of Tankerlane would give him the desire of his heart. This much, at least, his adversity had already taught him. It had shown him the depth of the sin that he had committed; it had laid bare the awful pit into which he would have cast his own soul and the soul of the woman he loved. In his own sufferings he saw the hand of a Father who chastens His rebellious children, to turn them from the error of their ways.

This much good, at any rate, had come to John Shil out of his illness.
He was too ordinary and too human to bear his awful affliction with the patience of a philosopher or a saint.
But he realized that it was a punishment, and though he chafed bitterly under his burden of misery, he ac-knowledgeed that he had in some measure paid the penalty exacted by a just Judge. The law of his country had not yet punished him for the death of Ben Holland. But God had exactd full repayment for those few moments of indecision when the man had gone down to his death.

And even in the midst of his mental sufferings he felt that God had stayed the full force of His vengeance. Twice had he been very near to death, and twice had his life been spared. Twice had Laura been brought down to the very edge of the Dark Valley, and twice had she been led back again to the light. He was as yet too sorely tried by his blindness to be grateful for his own life; but he thanked God that Laura had been saved, and he could not help thinkin; that both their lives had been spared for some object, and that sin could have no place hereafter in either of their hearts.

It was a lonely and a humble man that rose to greet Leonore Jackson, as she entered the smoking-room at Black Hall, and as the door closed behind her, she paused with a look of horror in her eyes. She knew nothing of the change that had been wrought within, but she shrank from the physical weakness and pain that she saw in every feature and every limb. The great frame was a mere skeleton, on which the clothes hung loosely; the back was curved, and the knees bent, as though unable to support the weight of the body; the hands were white and bony; the face was drawn and haggard and old. It was the face of a mask, almost without life, for the eyes which gave life to the face were covered with a hideous green shade, and the features were moulded into a permanent expression of pain.

"Ah, Leonore," he said in a harsh,

Leaps From Passenger

ATTENDED UNION MEETING

Employee of Burlington Wakes and Thinking He Is Past Station Leaps
to Death

While on his return trip home from the mass meeting held by the union men at Cameron park Saturday evening, John Dolby, 2209 Kane street, a well known employee of the Burlington railroad, jumped from the Burlington passenger train which leaves the south side station at 3:40 in the morning and was ground to an unrecognizable mass, death resulting instantaneously.

Being too tired to walk to his home which is on the extreme end of the north side he decided to wait and ride as far as Grand Crossing. He fell asleep soon after entering the coach and did not wake up until the train had reached 5th street. He evidently thought he had passed Grand Crossing and while the train was going at the rate of forty miles per hour he leaped to his death. People in the train did not notice him approach the platform but several passengers assert that they noticed him asleep.

Laborers going to work Sunday morning found the remains and telephoned Wm. Dwyer, the north side undertaker.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the house, Rev. Vik officiating. To mourn his loss Mr. Dolby leaves his mother, his wife and three brothers, George, Sie and Ed, all of La Crosse.

It develops that the party was attacked in the very suburbs of Lanchow.

North Side Preacher Deprecates Abuses, But Is Strong for the Union Cause

Rev. G. W. Fogg, the pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church will deliver each Sunday morning during the month of July a sermonette, before the regular sermon, on some live current topic. Yesterday the sermonette was on "Christian Ethics of a Commercial Strike," and among other things he said:

"There are several things that are fundamentally true in the business dealings of man with man.

"1. Man is a brother to man, and has no right to take the advantage of him because he can do so. He should give a square deal.

"2. Men of means have a right to organize; but because they think they have the power they have no right to keep the weaker man down by refusing to let him organize also. From the Christian standpoint, might does not make right. If capital has a right to get together to furnish work, so have workmen to furnish labor.

"3. When the stronger power overpowers the weak, it then becomes the duty of brother citizens to help the weak, if they are in the right. If the men who receive their income mainly from the efforts of the laborer can live in mansions, why can not the employee have a living wage? $600 a year is not a living wage for the man who has a family. Either his children will have to work when they should be at school, or the state or charity will have to look after them in their old age, if not before. The citizens have done nobly in helping the workmen in the recent lockout.

"4. In a strike a man has a right to be protected in his property. Even if he does not want a certain kind of labor, the citizens should let his property alone. He pays taxes on it.

"5. To destroy property is an injustice to the union men. The unions have done much good for the working men in all countries; but when a strike is on, the people at a distance, unless they are well informed, credit the unions with the destruction of property. This reputation does more harm than good.

"6. Boycotting, blacklisting, and labelling are no means of helping the weak. I question the right of intimidating except in the rarest cases, when it is necessary to wake a man up.

"7. Conciliation and arbitration are means that should be appealed to in all controversies, and considering the interest of the public, at large, it is the civil as well as Christian duty of both parties to arbitrate. New Zealand, Australia and New South Wales are ahead of us in this respect. They are compelled by law to arbitrate. These countries are independent on union labor."

The best book on the subject of "Labor Problems" is by Adams and Sumner of the U. of Wisconsin.

A Fool May Question

Rev. A. A. Randall of the North Presbyterian church, yesterday took for his theme "Unable to Answer Jesus." Text, Matt. XXII.46. He said in part: "The Pharisees and Sadducees are types of the two kinds of people who are most unspoken in their antagonism of Jesus today, the rationalist who estimates everything by the standards of his own self-conceived philosophy, and the quibbling moralist who insists upon hair-splitting distinctions in the letter of the law while he practically ignores the spirit of it. As they bothered the disciples of Jesus then, so these today bother the simple minded followers of the Master with their questions. And because the ordinary Christian is unable to answer them, they think themselves something great. But they forget that even a fool may ask questions that the most profound scientist or philosopher can not answer. However, it is not the Christian with whom the quibbling infidel has ultimately to deal, but Christ himself. It is not how do you explain this or that? but, What think ye of Christ? Instead of quibbling over some obscure passage in the Bible, let the modern Pharisee answer the Sermon on the Mount: let him answer the Golden Rule: let him answer Christ's summing up of the law: let him answer the parable of the Good Samaritan, or the parable of the Prodigal Son: let him answer the love of Calvary."

Many go out for wool, and come home shorn themselves.

HEAT IN CHICAGO

Hot Night Is Followed by Another Sizzling Day, Bringing Distress in Tenements

CHICAGO, June 28.—Twelve persons have died from the heat in Chicago in the last 24 hours according to reports to Coroner Hoffman today. The mercury, which hovered about 90 all yesterday afternoon, today began to mount, giving promise of another "sizzling" day.

The dead are:
Mrs. Roxa Taldi, 67 heart failure.
Joseph H. McGrath, 26, heart failure.

Carl Summer.
Henry Kicker, 41.
Geo. Silverstein.
Dennis O'Donnell.
John Nichols.
H. Waterman, 55.
Patrick O'Leary, 45.
John Sheridan, 33.

In addition to these an unidentified man was found dead in a house in Berwyn, a suburb. Nearly all of these persons succumbed to heat failure induced by the intense heat. Carl Summer is supposed to have committed suicide while insane with the heat. His body was found in Lake Michigan this morning and the police believe he drowned himself.

Several other deaths are reported from the bathing beaches around the city, one man, M. D. Gassels having dived from a pier and broken his neck.

WANT CALHOUN
CASE ANNULLED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—On the ground that Francis J. Heney could not legally conduct the case against Patrick Calhoun, Stanley Moore, Calhoun's attorney, today filed a motion in Judge Lawler's court to set aside all the indictments against Calhoun.

Judge Lawler will rule on the motion Wednesday when the second trial of Calhoun is expected to begin.

COMMONWEALTH QUARTET

A Really Great Quartet to Appear at Our Chautauqua.

There is something about a good quartet that always wins applause from any audience, and there is something about a bad or indifferent quartet that makes it about the most tiresome feature that was ever thrust upon an unsuspecting public for entertaining purposes. Quartets are like dollars—we will do almost anything to get in touch with the good ones, but the less we have to do with the bad ones the better we are satisfied. There are more quartets, good, bad and indifferent, on the road today than any other form of public entertainment, and it is an amusing fact that they are more popular than any other musical offering. Nearly everyone has at some time or other heard a really good quartet and after that they go to hear every one that happens along in the hope that by perseverance they will find another "just as good."

The Commonwealth Male quartet is excelled by none, a statement that will be verified by everyone who is fortunate enough to have heard them.

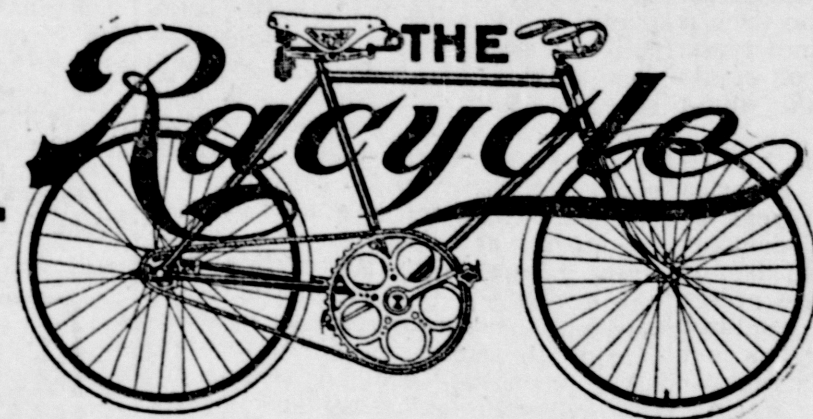

COMMONWEALTH QUARTET.

The members of the quartet know how to sing and they do sing—songs ranging from the old fashioned ones that take you back to the days when you dangled your bare feet over the high edge of a church pew "back home" and listened to the choir, down to the latest ballads and operatic airs. If you hear them once you will want to hear them again and again. With four well balanced voices, blending in perfect harmony, their ensemble work touches a responsive cord in the hearts of all lovers of good music, while the delightful bits of life and action introduced in the different selections add a decided charm to their rendition.

And, above all, the members of the quartet do a lot of "stunts" besides singing. For instance, one of the members, Mr. A. H. Carpenter, is a humorist of no mean ability, and during the course of the entertainment he gives a number of readings and monologues that are absolutely inimitable. His rendition of James Whitcomb Riley's "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" is one of the most touching and dramatic bits of elocution ever heard on a Chautauqua platform and never fails to bring forth a storm of applause from the audience.

The quartet includes in its repertoire this season selections upon the bamboo chimes, musical rattles, the miramphone and zolophones, rendering stirring melodies which set the pulses leaping and the feet beating time to the rhythm of the song. In its ensemble the quartet includes four instrumentalists, a pianist and a reader, thus being able to give a full evening's entertainment.

CLOSEST RACE EVER ON THE ATLANTIC

LONDON, June 28.—Few ocean passengers have witnessed an ocean race from Fire Island to the English channel. But such was the luck of the passengers of the Hamburg-American liner Amerika and the Red Star liner Lapland. The Amerika left New York one hour ahead of the Lapland, but the Red Star liner by an extra burst of speed soon came abreast of her big rival. For seven days and nights the two monsters plowed along side by side and the passengers kept the wireless operators busy recording bets as to the victor. They maintained an equal position until the Amerika was compelled to bear north to make Plymouth, while the Lapland continued on her course to Dover. Neither ship had been able to gain on the other. The race is said to have been the closest ever run on the Atlantic ocean.

Miss Gertrude Chandler, who have been visiting for a few days at the home of Mrs. D. Cunningham, returned last night to their home at Minneapolis.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. Howard Oakes was pleasantly surprised at his home, 1314 Jackson street Friday evening by a number of his friends the occasion being his fifteenth birthday. The evening was spent in music and games. Miss Marie Rawlinson rendered several selections on the piano which were very much appreciated by the guests present. Refreshments were served at a late hour, after which the guests departed for their homes. All reporting a pleasant evening. Those present were the Misses Marie Rawlinson, Elizabeth Kaiser, Viola Wallace, Tarrol Ford, Florence Christ-man, Edna Oakes; Messrs. Ray Ro-manowsky, Henry Otten, Emil Nelson and Howard Oakes.

Miss Maud Rattleberg and John
A. Puent were quietly united in marriage at the St. Joseph's cathedral at 9 o'clock this morning by Rev. G.
Sluyter.

PUBLIC BATH IS FORMALLY OPENED

The public bath at the other end of the Mississippi river wagon bridge was opened Saturday afternoon and was well patronized especially by the younger element. George Ritter, who was employed as assistant instructor last season, under director Joersche, has active charge of the baths this year and has under him an efficient corps of assistants.

Yesterday with the unusually warm weather, the baths was the most popular place in the vicinity of the city. All day long the water was full of swimmers some of whom remained until late in the evening.

It is wonderful and terrible how extravagant engaged folks are with love, and how economical they are with it after marriage.

PARENTS PETITION AGAINST SALOONS

Want Two Places Removed From Vicinity of Fifth District South
Branch

At the next meeting of the Common council a petition from the parents living in the district in which the south branch of the fifth district school is situated asking that the saloons in this neighborhood be refused licenses at the next election will probably be voted upon. The state law in regard to the situation of saloons states that within 300 feet of a school house no saloon shall be located. There are at present two saloons within this distance of the building, but as the statutes also states that if a saloon happened to be within 300 feet at the time the law was passed nothing could be done about the matter until the next spring election, these places will be allowed to transact business until spring, at least.

HAMILTON MAKES SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

TOKIO, June 28.—In the presence of Prince Yamashina the American aeronaut Hamilton made a phenomenal exhibition on his aero-plane here today. He kept his machine at an elevation of three hundred feet and sailed around Ueno park for ten minutes. Scores of Japanese dignitaries watched the flight, among them the officials of the war office who have been experimenting with aerial navigation for military purposes.

MORGAN AND TAFT TO VISIT ALASKA

NEW YORK, June 28.—J. Pierpont Morgan will visit Alaska this summer to make an inspection of the properties there in which he is interested. It is probable Morgan will meet President Taft there in the event congress furnishes the president with the required $25,000 traveling expenses.

WIFE PROTECTS HER SLAYER-HUSBAND

CHICAGO, June 28.—Chas. Giles, 48, was shot and killed by his brother-in-law Geo. Graves early today during a quarrel at the former's home.
After the killing Graves' wife seized the smoking revolver with which Giles was killed and held at bay a crowd of men until her husband could escape. Later Mrs. Graves attempted to meet her husband down town and both were arrested.
Giles was shot after Graves had been heard to threaten that he would "get him."

ORANGEMEN BATTLE WITH OLD ENEMIES

LIVERPOOL, June 28.—A mysterious rumor of pending attack circulated early today resulted in a wild riot between Orangemen and Catholics here, in which several were seriously injured. For a time a howling battling mob crowded the streets and the police were forced to use violent measures in order to disperse the crowd. Houses were rifled and a large amount of property destroyed by the lawless element which joined in the fight.

ASSASSINATIONS IN WAKE OF THE CZAR

LONDON, June 28.—It is today considered practically certain that the assassination at Stockholm Saturday evening of Major General Beckman, chief of the Swedish coast artillery, is the beginning of an anarchistic demonstration which will continue throughout the tour of the czar of Russia through Europe.

The two things that make a girl's wedding a success for her are sunshiny weather and for the names to be spelled right in the newspapers.

Literary Hour Daily

Prof. George R. Laird will give a series of moving pictures which will doubtless be greatly appreciated by teachers and others with literary tastes. The professor selects ambitious subjects for his addresses and his record gives more than a promise to fill the bill. He has enjoyed a university training and has had practical experience in the world's work. He is a man with a message and presents it with wit and humor in a voice which tells with an audience.

Dr. Stuart is well known in the ranks of pulpit and platform orators and comes to La Crosse with the highest commendations. He is said to possess a marvelous power of oratory and his visit to La Crosse will doubtless be appreciated.

The program of the week promises many rich and delightful numbers which The Tribune will note each day.

Change of Location

The public is again reminded that the entire week will be occupied by the Chautauqua at the splendid pavilion erected on the vacant grounds north of the old high school building at Main and Eighth streets. The eighth street end has been enclosed and the entire grounds with Burns park in front of them will be a most central and advantageous location for the event.

DOCTOR KNEW.

Had Tried It Himself.

The doctor who has tried Postum knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ails following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prospertown, N. J.

One of his patients says:

"During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings.

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum in its place as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful restful and delicious drink.

"I hesitated for a time disliking the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all the doctor said.

"Since drinking Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me."

the union at Labor hall and appealed to them to accept the terms of agreement as presented by the arbitrators.

Contrary to the general expectation there was no rioting either Saturday or Sunday nights.

The Agreement

The articles of agreement signed today follow:

Articles of agreement made and entered into this 28th day of June, 1909, by and between The La Crosse City Railway company and its employees in the settlement of their differences:

First. It is understood that all men in the employ of the company on June 21st, 1909, are to be immediately restored to their former positions and standing. The bulletin of June 20th, 1909, to be withdrawn and cancelled on the signing of this agreement, and all men in the future to be treated alike without question as to whether they are union or non-union men. The company guarantees that hereafter no man who is now a member of the union, or who may hereafter join the union shall be discriminated against, and non-union men shall not be unduly urged or influenced to join the union or not to join.

Second. Employees shall serve under the present rules and regulations of the company.

It is further understood and agreed that the following items shall be made the subject of arbitration, in the event of the company not being able to agree with the committee of its employees on a settlement on all or any of the items. Such matters to be taken up at once for conciliation and arbitration.

It is further agreed in case it becomes necessary to resort to arbitration that a board of three members shall be appointed as follows. One of the members shall be selected by the men, provided that he shall not be one of their own number, or a city, county or state official. One member shall be appointed by the company and he shall be neither an officer, stockholder, attorney or other employee of the company, nor shall he be a city, county or state official. The two so appointed shall select a third member of said arbitration board.

The said arbitration board is to hear fairly and impartially both sides and decide the following matters, or such of them as have not been previously decided by direct agreement between the company and the employees.

First. Whether the company should be required to take back into its employ Mr. Thrun and Mr. Sprout, or either of them.

Second. To determine a fair manner of hearing a committee representing employees of the said committee to exist during the life of such wage scale as may be put in force, and to represent the men in the discussion and determination of all questions that may hereafter come up for consideration between the company and its employees.

Third. To fix a wage scale to be in force for a term of one year from June 21, 1909.

Fourth. That all employees who have been employed by the company or are in the service of the company for strike-breaking purposes be dismissed from the service of the company in the operative department in which the employees, parties to this agreement may be employed.

Witness the hands and seals of the La Crosse City Railway company by its president, and three other directors, of the various employees affected by this agreement.

LA CROSSE CITY RY. CO.

It is hereby agreed that the conditions of this agreement by and between the La Crosse City Railway company and its employees shall apply to the La Crosse and Onalaska Street Railway lines.

Outside Officers Called.

Anticipating trouble in the street car strike this evening, Sheriff Duncan issued a call this morning for all the officers in the county to appear in La Crosse today.

The following reported by noon: Joe Marshall and H. W. Hoyer of West Salem, F. E. Schroeder, Orwan Thomas, E. Menzel, Albert Pliske and R. W. Davis of Bangor.

Clubbed by "Copper"

Charles Hanson, 1416 Mississippi street, reported to have been kicked in the stomach by one of the strike-breakers at the car barn, and later arrested and fined, declares today he was not kicked by a strikebreaker, but on the other hand was ruthlessly clubbed by the police. Mr. Hanson says he worked until 10 p. m. at a brewery where he is employed as fireman and was not intoxicated, good evidence of which he can furnish. He says he walked down the west side of North Third street to see the excitement with the rest of the crowd and was not warned to keep off that side of the thoroughfare. The car barn doors were tightly shut, he said, but he joined with others in crying "scab." Instantly Policeman Wolfe sneaked up behind him, he says, and before he knew what had happened, had dealt him three or four vicious blows across the back of the neck with his club. Detective Joe McGrath grabbed one arm and Sergeant Volton the other, he says, while Wolfe grabbed the front of his shirt and ripped it off. He says he protested that he was willing to go with them and would offer no resistance, but in spite of this, he says, he was beaten further, until he scarcely was conscious, and that he was again beaten after being hauled into an automobile. He says that further effort to club him was made at the police station. There he asked to have his wife notified of his whereabouts, but says the police threw him into a cell and refused to comply with the request. His wife worried at home all night without being aware of his whereabouts, and did not learn of it until next morning. When she came to the police station, says Hanson, the police were insolent and tried to refuse to let her see him. He secured a hearing by calling out of his cell window to a passerby to notify Fred Schnell of the board of public works, secretary of the union to which he belongs, who arranged for a hearing and payment of the fine of $7.50.

Didn't Call Troops

District Attorney James Thompson says that a wrong impression has been created by reports circulated from the sheriff's office in which he is credited with having written to Governor Davidson last Friday night for troops. He declares that, unable to find him Friday evening for about an hour, the sheriff and Undersheriff Wright wired the governor to send troops. When he appeared Attorney Thompson says he reproved their action, and when the governor phoned to him a few minutes later, he countermanded the order and told the governor there was no necessity for soldiers.

into service. It was learned today that a car load of "mechanics" will be brought from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, reaching here tomorrow morning. It is believed these men are being brought here to work as strike-breakers.

Strike Over Negroes

HOUSTON, Tex., June 28.—Trouble is expected on the Houston and Texas Central railroad following the refusal of the railroad to discharge negro switchmen at the demand of the switchmen here. A strike is imminent.

Dynamiting at Evansville

EVANSVILLE, Ind., June 28.—Simultaneously with the renewal of the Pittsburgh strike activity was renewed in the car strike here; one car being dynamited Saturday and another Sunday night. No lives were lost but one motorman was badly injured.

that Leon then visited several of his friends in Newark trying to get one of them to dispose of the trunk. It is supposed that this failure to do this forced him to bring the girl's body back to his room in New York. The police claim to know the identity of the men who assisted Leon in his efforts to dispose of the body and they contemplate arrests today.

Another Stranger Sought

NORWICH, N. Y., June 28.—The authorities of Broome and Chenango counties are searching for a man disguised as a woman whom they think may be Leon Ling, wanted in New York for the murder of Elsie Sigel. The man who registered at hotels in Chenango and Greene as "Mrs. Smith of Syracuse," and "Mrs. Medley, of Utica," started on foot Sunday for Binghamton. Today he is reported walking toward Bainbridge. Police authorities are watching for him along the way and officers have been sent out for him.

Another Suspect

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., June 28.—Officers at Chandler, Okla., have arrested a Chinaman who they believe is Leon Ling, alleged murderer of Elsie Sigel. The Chinaman was hiding in a box car and tried to escape from the officer who arrested him.

LAKE CARRIERS ARE IN JAIL

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—Wm. Hughes and Nicholas Fagan, members of the late firemen's union on strike with the other seamen's unions against the open shop policy of the Lake Carriers' association are in jail here today and will be arraigned on a charge of assault on Louis Nubert and Geo. Koernerke, of Mablehead, O.

According to the story told Nubert and Koernerke arrived here yesterday noon and were to take a trip to Duluth. They were waiting at the dock for the boat when they say eight men jumped on them, thinking they were strikebreakers. All the men escaped but Hughes and Fagan and were later brought in.

Koernerke positively identified the two as his assailants.

LOVED HIRED MAN SO KILLED HUSBAND

Story Told by Former When Grewsome Crime Is Unearthed at Mankato, Minn.

BROTHER FINDS THE BODY

Hired Man Tells Authorities Woman Killed Her Husband and Mob Surges About Jail

MANKATO, Minn., June 28.—The body of H. J. Ledbetter, well-to-do farmer, who had been missing since May 4 last, was found Sunday afternoon buried under three feet of earth on his farm.

The head was crushed in by blows from some blunt instrument. Mrs. Ledbetter, the dead man's wife, and Frank Smith, man of all work about the farm, are under arrest, charged with murdering Ledbetter.

Wm. Schwandt and Mrs. Schwandt, the latter a sister of Mrs. Ledbetter, are under arrest also as the result of a confession made by Smith, in which he implicates the two latter persons with the removal of the body from its first grave in the barn to a new burying place on the farm. The gruesome find of Sunday resulted from determined efforts on the part of P. A. Ledbetter, Hayward, Wis., a brother of the dead man, who since H. J. Ledbetter disappeared, has maintained that the missing man met with foul play. P. A. Ledbetter organized a searching party Sunday, arming the men with Muskrat spears to prod over the farm.

Matt Sander, one of the searchers, located the body when his spear struck the buried trunk.

Smith, the hired man, had accompanied the searchers during the day, joking them about their task. He and Mrs. Ledbetter were immediately arrested.

Smith told the authorities Mrs. Ledbetter killed her husband with an axe the night of May 4, because of her infatuation for him (Smith). He says he helped bury the body in the barn. After the body was removed to another grave Smith declared Mrs. Schwandt, her husband, and Mrs. Ledbetter assisted in the second burial.

An angry mob congregated outside of the jail at Mankato Sunday night and threats of lynching were made, but the crowd was dispersed and today the situation is quiet, though the murder has produced a great sensation.

The murdered man was 53 years of age. His wife is 32; Smith is 36. Mrs. Ledbetter denies Smith's story.

FINDS HER SON A HOTEL WAITER

NEW YORK, June 28.—When Mrs. H. Burnham of Reno, Nev., went into the dining room at the Hotel Astor yesterday, she was served by a waiter who wore a mustache and imperial, but though she could not recognize his face, she was sure she knew the walk. She was faultlessly served, but could eat little, for there was the haunting fear in her breast that the man who was serving her was her own son. After her meal had been completed she asked the manager of the hotel the man's name and was told he lived under the name of Burnham Roberts. She sent for him and the man, still in his waiter's garb, rushed to her arms and kissed her.

Young Burnham came east several years ago to make his fortune in Wall street. His father was a wealthy ranch owner but he desired to take his own way. Adversity came upon him but he was too proud to ask his parents for money. Rather, he accepted a position as a waiter. His father has since died and his mother has spent a small fortune looking for him. He has agreed to accompany her home and assume the management of her business affairs.

PROVIDES FOR A TAX ON INCOMES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Senator Aldrich this afternoon reported from the finance committee the joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution so as to permit the levying of a tax on incomes. It will lie over until after the conclusion of the corporation tax debate.

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's kidney remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint." O. T. Erhart.

If a man does not make a new acquaintance as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendship in constant repair.—Johnson.

JEALOUSY OF YOUNG WIDOW BRINGS DEATH

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., June 28

Jealousy over the affection of Mrs. Donnie Kelly, a pretty widow, is said to have been the cause for the murder of Otis Bush and the suicide of J. W. Head here. The shooting took place on a country road in the presence of Mrs. Kelly.

At the coroner's inquest today it developed that the two men had not quarreled before they met yesterday on the road. Bush was in a buggy and beside him sat Mrs. Kelly. Head hopped up to them on a pony. Without a word, according to the story told the coroner, he drew a revolver and fired. Bush died almost instantly.

Head lived for some time.

Persons in the neighborhood heard the shots and ran to the scene. Mrs. Kelly was hysterical. On the grass beside the road was Head, unconscious. He died a few hours later.

Bush and Head were young farmers and had been rivals for Mrs. Kelly's hand.

ARMENIAN SLAYER WEEPS IN COURT

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—Overstrained by the heat and the long grind to get a jury to try him for the killing of his nephew, Hartoon, Gostinian, Doctor G. K. Boyajian, the Armenian lecturer, broke down in court today and wept bitterly. It was the repeated references to the alleged misconduct of his wife and thoughts that brought sobs from the physician. Boyajian looked badly today as the result of a slight attack of heart trouble which he says he has suffered with intermittently since the shooting.

ANARCHISTS ARE CHICAGO'S MARTYRS

CHICAGO, June 28.—A special cable to the Daily News from Rome today says:

Roman anarchists have formed a club naming it The Chicago Martyrs, after the men who were executed for the Haymarket bomb outrage. The object is to promote the anarchistic propaganda by means of popular lectures and publications.

The Haymarket riots occurred May 4, 1886 and four men were hanged Nov. 11, 1887.

TEN MILLIONS IN A FRISCO WAGON

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Ten million dollars in gold loaded on a wagon was carried through the streets of San Francisco today from the present headquarters of the sub-treasury to the vaults in the old city hall building. Twenty mounted policemen, heavily armed, guarded the coin. Fourteen horses were hitched to the wagon.

SENATE ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—At 3 p. m. today the senate reached the end of the tariff schedules. Adjournment was then taken until tomorrow when the corporation amendment tax will be taken up.

PASS CUBAN LOTTERY

HAUTNA, June 28.—The civil budget for the coming year will be railroaded through both houses of the Cuban congress today. There will be no further attacks.

The lottery bill, which places the seal of governmental approval on the national lottery and makes the Cuban treasury responsible for the payment of prizes, will also be passed some time today without further changes.

CARPENTERS MAY STRIKE

NEW YORK, June 28.—Declaring that carpenters of New York have violated their arbitration agreement, the Master Carpenters Association will meet this afternoon to decide whether they will declare an "open shop." If they do the 16,000 carpenters of New York declare they will wage a bitter fight. It is declared that if the employers carry out the "open shop" threat, the entire building trades union, numbering more than 60,000 men will be affected at once.

CRAZED BY HEAT

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 28.—Police and friends of Henry Wallace are searching for him. Wallace, deranged by heat and religious exaltation, tried to kill himself yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid.

YOUNG MEN WANTED

Manufacturers and Wholesalers the Country Over Want Men at Salaries Ranging from $2,000 to $10,000.

Why young men prefer a life of drudgery at a small salary to dignified and agreeable work with a large salary is a mystery to those who are going ahead.

Without any previous experience, any young man of ordinary education can become a trained salesman in six weeks.

Traveling salesmen earn from $2,000 to $10,000 a year and expenses, and with the return of prosperity thousands are in demand.

The Bradstreet System has successfully trained thousands of young men by mail in salesmanship, and the president makes this announcement to the readers of The Tribune. He says: "I will teach you salesmanship at your home in six weeks, and secure you a position as a traveling salesman with a reliable firm. I have written a book which tells how easy it is for any young man with ambition to succeed as a salesman. This book I will gladly send you free." Write for it today, to the President Bradstreet System, 207 Cornwall Bldg., Rochester, N. Y.

S.S.S. MAKES A LASTING CURE

Not only its proven ability to cure, but its absolute safety as a remedy has made S. S. S. the most extensively used of all medicines in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison. Unlike the strong mineral mixtures which temporarily remove the outward symptoms and shut the disease up in the system, there to carry on its destructive work on the delicate vital organs, S. S. S. strikes directly at the root, and by purifying the blood of every trace of the virus, completely and permanently cures the trouble. S. S. S. is Nature's blood purifier, harmless in its action and certain in its good results. It is made from a combination of roots and herbs, each of which has a definite and specific action in purifying the blood. Years were spent in selecting and proportioning the different ingredients, but when S. S. S. was perfected it soon demonstrated its superiority over all other blood medicines, and now, after 40 years, it is still the one and only certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. While driving out the poison from the circulation S. S. S. builds up and strengthens the system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. is your most certain reliance, and because of its freedom from mercury, potash or any other mineral, it is absolutely safe for every one. ## GLACIA CALLA FACES SUIT

NEW YORK, June 29.—The famous Glacia Calla, who has received more notoriety than perhaps any other American beauty who chose the stage as a profession, faces a suit in the courts of France which for sensational evidence will totally eclipse the action in which the famous New Hampshire beauty charged her husband, Paul E. Roy of Paris, with the murder of her brother, Charles Carkins.

Headed by Mons. Primeaux, one of the cleverest sleuths of the French capital, these detectives have been collecting evidence and have been shadowing Glacia Calla since she left her home in Newington last summer shortly after the indictment of her husband for murder by a Portsmouth jury.

The detectives have examined the court records of Rockingham county and also the hotel registers in Portsmouth, Dover, Newington and Concord, N. H., as well as in Haverhill, Lowell, Boston, Salem, Worcester and New York city.

Now after nearly a year spent in tracing the movements of the fair singer, Primeaux declares that he has been called back to France to lay his evidence before the courts and assert that Roy will immediately file suit for divorce on the strength of his findings.

Coming at this time, this action on the part of Roy revives interest in one of the most famous international cases.

PUBLIC EATING DECAYED MEATS

Former Inspector Says the Condition of All Packing Houses Is
"Rotten"

FREMONT, O., June 28.—James Harms, former meat inspector, who made sensational charges against government inspectors stationed at St. Louis packing houses and whose charges were investigated secretly by the government, has sent the following letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson:

"In response to a report from Acting Secretary Hays, presented to me by Dr. Steadman, June 15, I accompanied him to St. Louis, Mo., for the purpose of substantiating my letter of June 8 to you in which I charge irregularities by those in charge of the bureau of animal industry at the National stock yards.

"On the morning of June 17, 1909, when your board of investigation convened at the stock exchange at the National stock yards at St. Louis, I found that it was composed of Dr. Melvin and others.

"As your Dr. Melvin had on June 11 pronounced me a liar and my letters to you as lies, I did not feel that I could go before that board, and especially behind closed doors and expect to get a square deal.

"For that reason, I refused to be a party to the star chamber session. The public funds are being used, the matter in hand is of vital importance and the public is entitled to know the facts.

"But the investigation went forward and I was very much gratified to know that the witnesses called whom I was depending on verified every accusation and they made further accusations that I had not mentioned.

"During the time since June 8 I have received and held letters from other meat inspectors located from Philadelphia to San Francisco asking me that they be called to the stand to give their evidence as to conditions at other stations.

"The facts brought out at the investigation at the National Stock yards with requests made me by other inspectors in letters from the basis on which I now write you asking for open investigation of every station.

"An open investigation is the only course that will satisfy an enlightened public. I further wish to assure you, Mr. Secretary, that the letters of June 8, taking up each department at the different packing houses in the National Stockyards and giving you and the public a complete description of them as they are, are in preparation and will be forthcoming very soon."

BATH ROOM GIRL WILL BE LIBERATED

CHICAGO, June 28.—As a result of the death of Mrs. Cella E. Kenyon, chief witness for the state, it is possible that Miss Ella Gingles will never be brought to trial on the charge of stealing valuable laces from Miss Alice Barrett.

Miss Gingles is the young Irish lace maker who alleges that, following her arrest on the charge of stealing laces, she was bound, gagged and horribly mutilated in a bathroom of the Wellington hotel. She further alleges that she was treated in this manner because she refused to become a white slave.

The berries were grown on Mr. Bell's farm, where some of the finest strawberries in this vicinity have been grown for a number of years.

One—the flat, sad, sickly looking one—was baked with poor baking powder; possibly the high price kind—possibly the cheap, big can kind. It denotes a lack of leavening gas, or an uneven distribution of same—or both. The other—the large, light, fluffy one—was prepared with Calumet Baking Powder, and denotes the never-failing, delicious baking that always results from its use.

Calumet does not cost as much as the high price baking powder, but it is very much superior in every way—it is purer—more reliable—more healthful. Here are the reasons:

All baking powders undergo a chemical change in the process of baking. You do not take it into the stomach in the same form as it is in the can. For example: When you use Cream of Tartar Baking Powder you get Rochelle Salts in your food, because the Cream of Tartar during this reaction turns into Rochelle Salts. This, as you know, is a drug, and should be taken only under doctor's orders.

That it is absolutely pure and of highest quality is proven by the fact that

Success Under Difficulties.

How a man may score a triumph when the fates appear to be against him was well illustrated some months ago at Toledo, O. Albert Armstrong, the famous entertainer who presents picture plays, was billed to appear in the regular entertainment course. He was to give "The Little Minister."

But it seems that the play, "The Little Minister," had been given the night before by a star company, with Maudie Adams in the leading role, and of course the company and the play made a big hit. Armstrong did not like the prospect of such an apparent handicap, and he asked that he be allowed to give one of his other picture plays. But the committee insisted that he give "The Little Minister." And with much misgiving he did present in picture play the same story that had been played by an all-star aggregation the night before. And it is a fact that he scored a tremendous hit. As a matter of fact he received more complimentary press notices than did the company which presented

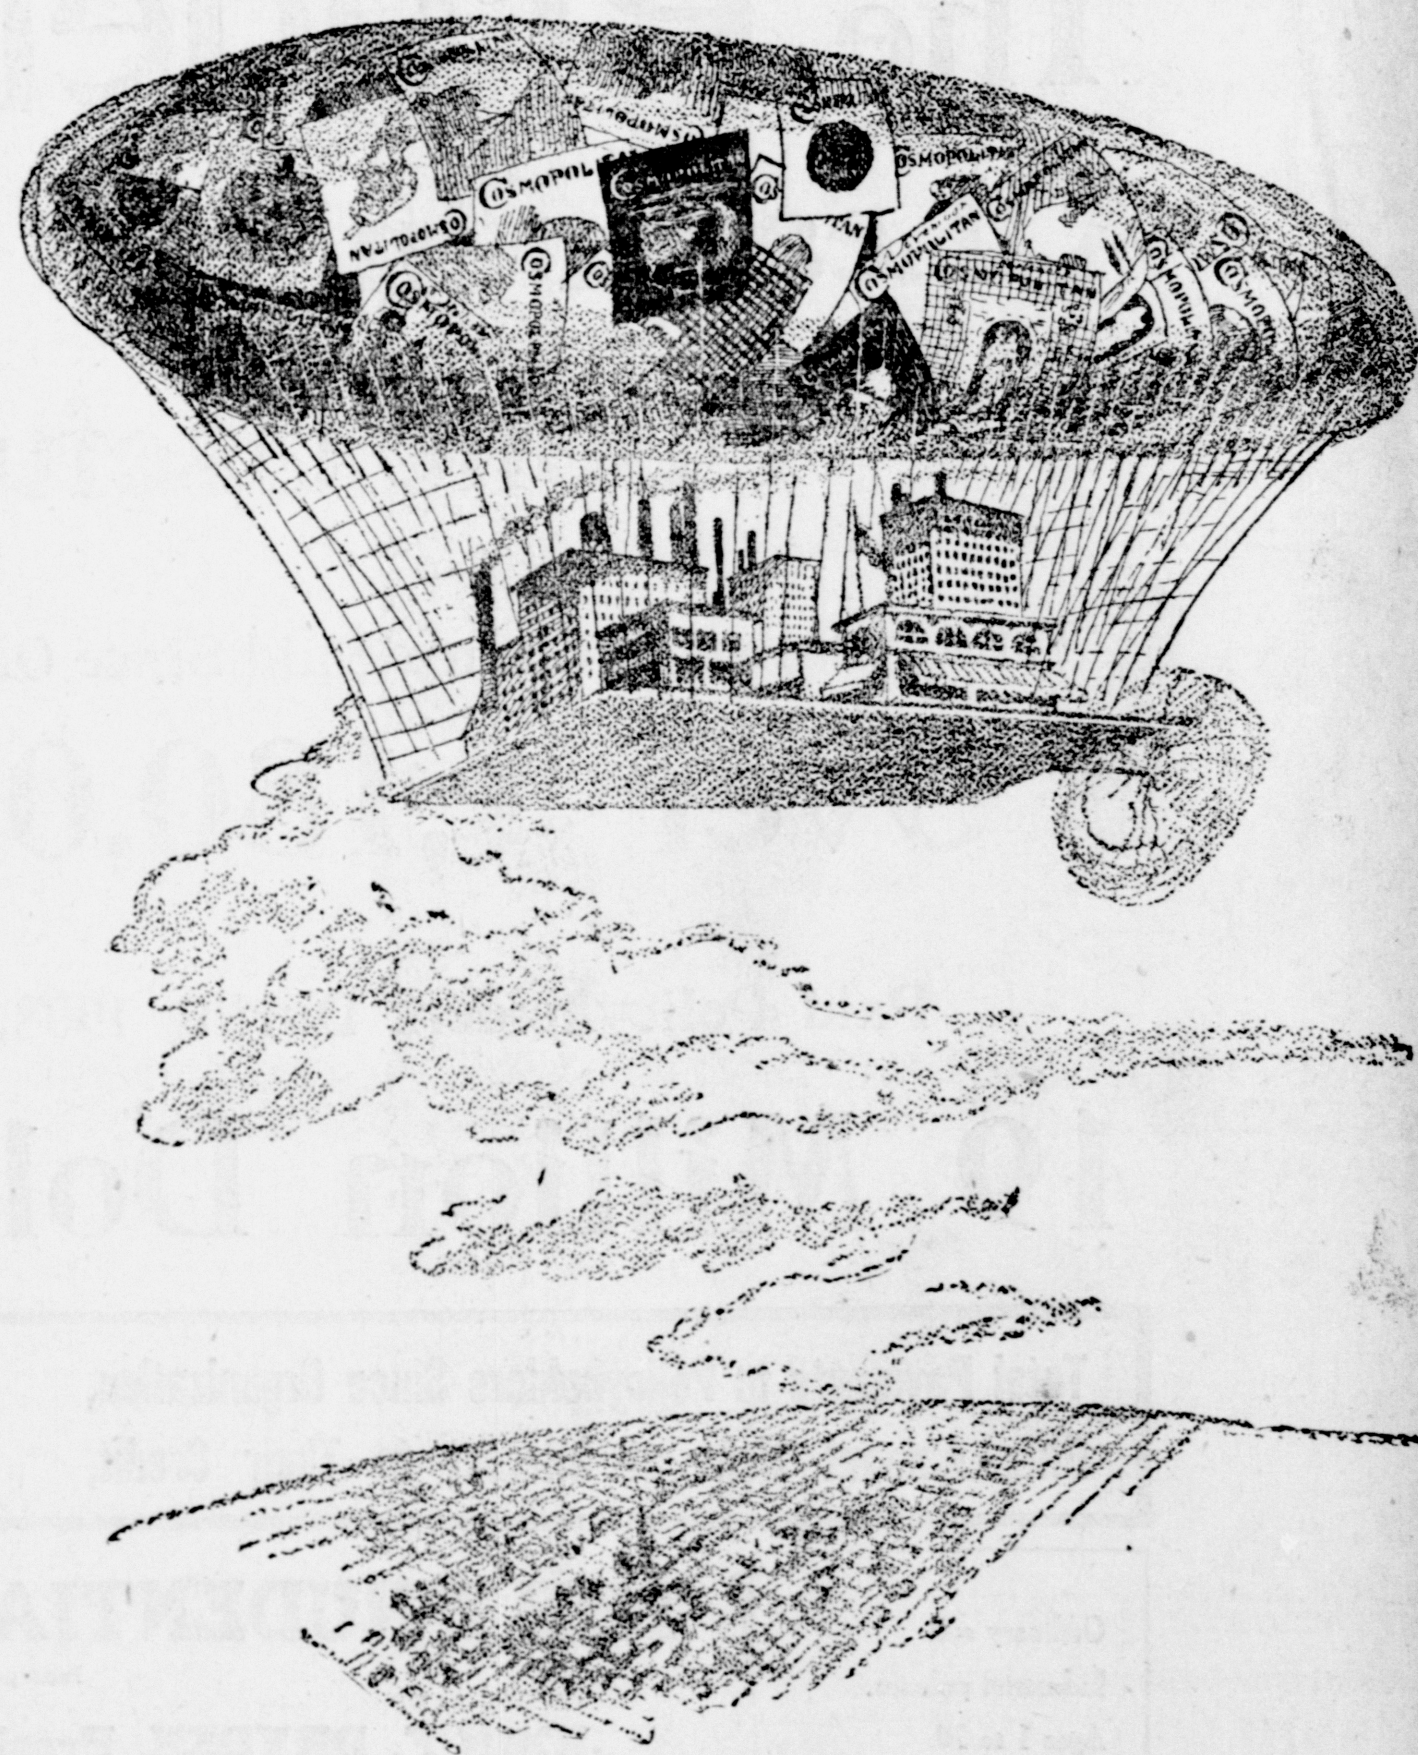

ALBERT ARMSTRONG.

"The Little Minister" the night previous to his own appearance.

But this is only one of Armstrong's many successes. He gives such stirring, dramatic plays as "The Bonnie Briar Bush," that wonderful story by Ian MacLaren, and "The Sky Pilot," that equally interesting story, written by Ralph Connor. Armstrong is a genius or he could not make so great a success of his picture plays. He is peculiarly fitted for the work he has undertaken. He is a Scotchman and a thorough master of dialect. He has devoted many months to preparation for the entertainments he is giving. Before he gave "The Sky Pilot" he visited the Canadian northwest, with his camera, studying the people and the conditions of life in the logging camps, and taking innumerable pictures. He has achieved wonderful success and a discriminating entertainment-going public evidently believes he has earned the success he has achieved.

A GREAT HARPIST.

And a Quartet of Boys a Leading Feature at Our Chautauqua.

After all it is the harp and the boys that touch the hearts of the people. The piano, the pipe organ or the violin are more popular because they are more common, and people pay $5 for a seat to hear a famous grand opera singer because it is fashionable. But way down in the bottom of your heart of hearts you know that when it comes to making real music that takes us back to the time when our mothers sang us to sleep that there is nothing that can compare with the old harp. And you also know that when it comes to singing that a boys' choir in the old church at home came nearer being heavenly than anything we ever expect to hear again.

If the harp were as easy to master as the piano there is little doubt but that it would be in the majority of the refined homes today, and "the instrument the angels play" would be heard even more frequently than is the piano. The fact that the harp, the oldest type of stringed instrument in existence, is the most difficult to play, accounts for the fact that the really expert performers are few, and it is seldom indeed that an American audience is given the privilege of hearing a concert by one who is able to bring out the sweet music of which it is capable.

In introducing Sarah Watrous Brown and her Chicago Boy Choir to its patrons, the managers of the Redpath-Vawter System feel that they are peculiarly fortunate in being able to secure one of the very best musical attractions before the public today. Mrs. Brown is a harpist of national fame, and she has delighted hundreds of the most critical audiences. In technique she is unsurpassed and she knows just how to touch the instrument in order to bring out its best qualities. Her music is of the quietly thrilling kind that holds the audience spellbound.

In her concerts this season Mrs. Brown will use a magnificent $1,500 instrument that was built specially for her by one of the greatest harp makers in the world. It is without a doubt the finest and sweetest toned instrument in the world today, and its strings, under the masterful touch of Mrs. Brown, send out music which strike the very heart strings—tones that awaken memories, inspire visions and make music do its perfect work.

Every man believes in its of this there is nothing in.

COTTON BAGGING ON FREE LIST. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.

otton bagging, the rough cloth in which bales of cotton are wrapped, is on the free list so far as the senate is concerned.

Before it becomes a law, however, it will have to be approved by the house of representatives or the conference committee on the tariff bill.

Cotton ties, the metals with which the cotton bales are bound, was given a duty of $6 a ton.

A duty of one-half cent a pound was added to bottle caps which makes the tariff in the senate bill 1-2 cent a pound and 45 per cent ad valorem.

Tire detectors were added to the paragraph that fixes the tariff on watch movements.

The duty on zinc blocks and pigs was increased to 1-12 cents a pound. The paragraph on binding twine, which is on the free list, was adopted.

An amendment offered by Stone of Missouri, to place iron and all kinds of iron and steel manufactures on the free list was defeated by a viva voce vote.

MRS. CLEVELAND ON THE STAND TODAY. NEW YORK, June 28.--Mrs. Grover Cleveland, wife of the late president of the United States, was on the stand again for a short time today in the trial of Broughton Brandenburg, charged with larceny in connection with the sale of an article alleged to have been written by Mr. Cleveland, to the New York Times.

PLACARD DEATH OF ROYAL FAMILY. TEHRAN, Persia, June 28.--Placards announcing that the Shah and royal family have been condemned to death by a secret meeting at which a band of rebels were sworn to execute the sentence greeted the eyes of the citizens here today.

Despite the careful precautions by Col. Liakhoff to prevent any demonstration or activity on the part of the rebels, the placards were distributed last night and were posted in all places where they attracted the gaze of the early morning crowds.

INSANE YOUTH ENDS THREE LIVES. QUINCY, Ill., June 28.--Mrs. Seneca Gurney, Jr., is in a critical condition today as the result of the tragedy at the home of her brother-in-law, George Gurney yesterday, when he shot her, killed his father, Dr. Seneca Gurney, and ended his own life while temporarily insane.

NO RECEIVER FOR U. S. NEW YORK, June 28.--There will be no receiver for the United States Express company. Justice Guy in the supreme court has denied the application of John L. THE DAILY MARKETS.

FOREIGN MARKETS. N. Y. Stocks.

NEW YORK, June 28.--The feature of the opening was the strong tone of the Inter-Met. issues, the common and preferred and 4 1-2's scoring fractional advances on unusually heavy trading. There was some weakness in Western Maryland and Amalgamated Copper but the rest of the list displayed a fair amount of strength with moderate fractional advances in nearly everything traded in but the demand over these advances was not large and after the orders in hand at the opening were filled prices receded in some cases below Saturday's close.

11 A. M.--The market after the first few minutes narrowed down to the transactions of a few room traders who sold stocks on a small scale, causing some fractional net losses except in the issue in which there was accumulating in progress for specific purposes. Wabash preferred and Reading moved up one point. C. & O. was stronger and the Harriman stocks showed a net fractional gain.

Government bonds unchanged, others firm. Noon--Reading moved up one point and the Eries were also in fairly good demand. Trading in the rest of the list dragged slowly.

Cash Grain. CHICAGO, June 28.--Cash grain prices:

in the way of taxation upon the revenue from such property.

Q. Do these men control large corporations?

A. Yes, many; such as Standard Oil, United States Steel Company, many railroad companies.

Q. Are not these companies opposed to the corporation tax?

A. Not now.

Q. Did not Judge Gary, president of the Steel Corporation, say he was opposed and did not Mr. McKee of the Pennsylvania Railroad company say he was opposed to the corporation tax and did not other presidents of similar large corporations say they were opposed to a corporation tax?

A. Yes, they did.

Q. Did not Judge Gary say he was going to Washington to oppose its enactment?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. Did he go to Washington?

A. He did not.

Q. Why not?

A. Because J. Pierpont Morgan told him not to.

Q. Does J. Pierpont Morgan control Judge Gary?

A. He appears to.

Q. Why can he do so?

A. Judge Gary is just a hired man of J. Pierpont Morgan.

Q. Are presidents of all these corporations just hired men.

A. They are.

Q. Are there any family reasons why Mr. Taft should support a corporation tax?

A. That Question should be referred to Brother Charlie.

Q. What is the true description of Aldrich's support of the corporation tax?

A. A choice of evils.

Q. Is Mr. Taft's support of it to be described in the same way?
A. No, his was an evil choice.

HUNDRED MILLION FOR CHICAGO DEPOT

CHICAGO, June 28.—The building of an immense centralized transportation terminal to cost eventually $100,000,000, the plan to be submitted to F. A. Delane, president Wabash, directors of the Western Indiana company. Involved in the scheme is not only the construction of an immense depot facing on Twelfth street to be used by every railroad entering Chicago, but the construction of all the elevated railways and subway connections. If the city will co-operate the plan will be pushed forward at once. If not the Western Indiana company proposes to build a big new depot of its own. It is believed here that Delane recently declined the post of United States Minister to China in order to give his attention to this scheme.
